Dear researchers, educators, postgraduate students, and students!

You are kindly invited to participate in the IV International Scientific and Practical Webinar: “Innovations in Foreign Language Teaching Methods: Digitalization, Personalization, Interactivity.”

GENERAL INFORMATION:

Objective of the webinar:

To exchange advanced experience and ideas on the transformation of foreign language teaching in the modern educational space; to implement interactive and gamified approaches that enhance learner engagement and motivation; to disseminate and exchange knowledge in the field of professional foreign language training of higher education students in general, and in foreign language teaching methodology in particular; as well as to foster effective intercultural communication and the development of relevant skills.

The webinar also aims to emphasize the importance of personalized learning by adapting methods to the individual needs of students at NUBiP of Ukraine, and to explore inclusive approaches that ensure access to language education for all learners.

Special attention will be given to the use of innovations in teaching students with dyslexia, making the process of learning foreign languages as effective as possible for everyone.

This scientific-practical webinar provides broad opportunities for the development of linguistic, communicative, intercultural, and sociocultural competencies and highlights the need for personalized and inclusive teaching strategies.
